The big steel schooner-yacht Constellation was successfully launched yesterday at Piepgras's shipyards en City Island. She is the largest centreboard pleas-ure boat afloat, being, as far as her dimensions are cerned, in a class with the keel schooners Dread naught and Coronet. The Constellation was designed for E. D. Morgan by Edward Burgess and was built by Piepgras under the designer's supervision. The big yacht is fisted with the New-York Yacht Club, the dimensions given being as follows: Length over all, 130 feet; length of water line, 106 feet; beam, 25 feet; depth of hold, 12 feet, and draught 12 feet, 3

The Seawanhaka-Corinthian Yacht Club yesterday received its orders from Commodore A. Cass Canfield, through Fleet Captain J. F. Tams, as to the details of the coming squadron cruise. The fleet will render-vous in Oyster Bay Harbor on Monday, July 1. On that day the forty-footers will race over a twenty-five ourse in Long Island Sound for a $200 cup offered by the Oyster Bay Yacht Club. On Wednesday the squadron will sail for Larchmont and will remain there over July 4. On the 5th the fleet will sail eastward so as to reach Marbiehead before July 15.

The Harlem Yacht Club will hold a special meeting to-morrow evening to award the prizes competed for by the fleet at last Monday's regatta. The folflowing winners will receive rewards for their speed and for the ability of their shippers: Class A. Peerless; Class B. Uns; Class C, Bessie B; Class C, Gyptie; Class E, Jessie; Class F, May B., and Class G, Harry C.

LORD DUNRAVEN PLEASED WITH HIS YACHT. London, June 20.-Lord Dunraven and his brotherin-law, Mr. Kerr, in an interview, declared that the Valkyrie fully answered their expectations. She had proved eminently superior to erack yachts on all points in running before the wind, in sailing to windward and in running half free. She had also impressed them with the idea that she would exhibit speed and excellent sea-going qualities in heavy weather; in fact, that she would prove equally good in heavy and light weather.

It was hard lines, they said, to be robbed of a race by fluky winds. The Valky rie sailed to-day for Liverpool, and will race from that port to the Clyde. She will then sail for New-York. They were confident that the Volumber would be substant to defend the America. Volunteer would be selected to defend the America's Cup. They would themselves sail in the Valkyrie in the race for the cup. They believed that the Kal-kyrie would win, especially if, as was most likely, moderate weather prevailed. In a gale, however, the Volunteer would naturally have an advantage. They would not use the centreboard.

THE ACADEMY OF MEDICINE'S NEW HOME

WEST FORTY THIRD ST. The regular meeting of the New-York Academy of was largely attended last night, as the bustness to be transacted was of more than usual importance. After Dr. Jacobi had read some notes on e baking of bacilli; the plans for the new academy building, drawn by Architect R. H. Robertson, were presented and explained. Although excavations have already been begun, only the general plans of the building have been decided upon. The site is on the north side of West Forty-third-st., near Fifth-ave. and is 75 feet wide by 100 feet 5 inches deep.

Of what material the building will be constructed is not yet determined, although a style of sandstone the lower part of the facade, and rock-face brick ries, is favored by many members for the upper sto This question will be decided at a meeting of the Building Committee on Tuesday evening, when a number of other details will be finally disposed of. Only one change in the plans submitted was made last night; the architect had designed to have the entrance at the end of the building nearest Sixthave., but this order was reversed. As now designed the building will be a handsome four-and-one-half-story structure, in the Romanesque style of architecture, oughly fireproof, ventilated in the best manner, and well lighted by many windows and several skylights. It will be provided with cellars, a kitchen, cooling room, etc., in the basement. The first floor will be divided into a large assembly room, a dining-room and several smaller rooms.

On the second floor will be a handsome library, med principally for books of reference that are in tant demand. In the rear of that will be targe stack room, in which a great many of the volumes now in the library will be placed. There will also be on this floor a reading-room and a small om. The merganine floor above the secon story will be laid out in a similar manner to the latter, and used for the same purposes. On the third foor there will be a room for photography, a laboratory and a meeting room for the Pathological Society. The fourth story will be used for various purpose the site the academy paid $90,000, and th For the site the academy paid $90,000, and the estimated cost of the building, exclusive of fixtures, is $130,000. If the present home of the academy can be sold at its real value, the new building will be nearly free of debt when the academy takes possession of it, for the subscriptions to the building fund have already been extremely large.

All the members of the academy expressed themselves as highly pleased at the prospect of having such a fine building as the plans indicated, in which is place their valuable library and hold their meetings.

Mr. Kantrowitz said yesterday that Signor Javelli has threatened to shoot him, but that he doesn't "care a continental." Several of the neighbors said that Mr. Kantrowitz was a crank. Mrs. Javelli said so, too, and added that the crows were as well behaved as could be, and that it would break her heart to part from them. Her husband found them in the country when they were younglings, and they were brought up by hand. One of them is named "Lost," because it went astray some time ago. The other is called "Sam." Javelli said that Kantrowitz was "no good." Kantrowitz said that Javelli was "one of them ordinary Eye-tailans, with a stiletto, as like as not." All the time that the reporter was there the crows were as dumb as clams, to the discomforture of Mr. Kantrowitz, who explained that they must have been reading the newspapers and "got the tip." When still a young man he became associated with the present firm of Harding, Colby & Co., a commission dry goods house, in Leonard-st., this city, and in Boston. Mr. Harding lives in Boston and Mr. Colby had managed the New-York house. The house is a wealthy one and Mr. Colby's private fortune runs into the millions. He moved to Orange about thirty years ago and at once connected himself with the North Orange Eaptist Church. He was soon after chosen one of its officers and at the time of his death was a deacon, the president of the Board of Trustees, and superintendent of the mission Sunday-school in the valley. Mr. Colby was an earnest Christian man. He had a wasm heart, and the amount and numbers of his private benefactions can never be known.

He was married about thirty years ago, and has had three sons, Gardner, Louis St. Clair and Arthur. The first-named was graduated from college some time ago, and was in business with his father. The other two sons are at present undergraduates. Mr. Colby was a vice-president of the American Board of Home Missions, a director in the Delaware, Lackswanns and Western Railroad, a director of the Parmers' Loan and Trust Company and a managing frector of the Ninth National Bank. Mr. Colby's nome in Harrison st., East Orange-Holly Hall-was one of the most costly of the many fine houses in and about the Oranges. Mr. Colby was a man of fine literary tastes, a great lover of poety and had written many poems himself. He was largely inter-ested in charitable institutions, and gave largely to the Orange Memorial Hospital and the training school for pursus.

-YALE AGAINST THE PENNSYL-VANIANS TO-DAY.

New-London, June 20 (Special).-What all New-Londoners agree will be the most brilliant race week in the history of college boating on the Thames begins to morrow with the contest between the crews of Yale and the University of Pennsylvania. For the last four or five days no less than nine college crews have been practising on the river for the series of races (unusually varied and attractive this year) which is to culminate on June 28 in the great Harvard-Yale struggle for boaring supremacy. So far there are five races on the University of Pennsylvania row over the four-mile course to morrow, each eight trying its strength in what has been generally looked on as a sort of practice The New-Haven oarsmen may be pull for Yale. put to their real racing form this year, however, for the Philadelphians are gradually winning their way to the front rank of boating colleges.

Next Tuesday the freshman crews of the same universities will row against each other on the two mile course. The Pennsylvania youngsters have an excellent chance it is thought. Five of the 'Varsity men row in the freshman boat also

On Wednesday the Harvard and Columbia freshmer have their race. This is also over the two-mile course. The crows of Cornell, Columbia and the University of Pennsylvania row a triangular contest on Thursday. The distance this time is three miles. Then on Priday Yale and Harvard will try to vanquish each other and the four-mile college record. of these races will be, as the sporting fraternity put " for blood," and the practice form of the parsi promises several stirring struggles from start to

The Yale eight which will go to the starting line to-morrow against Ellis Ward's Pennsylvania pupils is practically a veteran one. Most of the men rowed in two winning races against Harvard, and for third time are working themselves into championship form under the eye of the celebrated "Bub" Cook. MAKING LAND AT BAYONNE.

A POINT OF NEW JERSEY LAW-A MATTER FOR THE UNITED STATES (DIRTS

report published yesterday that the Atlantic redging Company were actively engaged in filling the water front of the upper bay on the shore of Bayonne. N. J., and constructing what would practically be a large tract of made ground between that place and Robbins Reef Light, was the first infiniation received by Lieutenant J. J. Hunker, Supervisor of New York Harbor, that any encroachment was being made on the harbor limits in that neighborhood Hunker, when seen at the United States Army Building in Whitehall'st, vesterday, said that the operations would undoubtedly be stopped.

The peculiar point involved in this instance," said Lieutenant Hunker, " is that under the laws of the State of New-Jersey any one owning property within a certain distance of the water front is entitled to the land under water within that limit, but as the matter is one for the decision of the United States Courts and not for the interpretation of the State law, the only step to be taken by me is to call to my assistance the United States District At torney in the district where any breach of the law is ommitted, and that I shall certainly do. "The alleged encroachment on the harbor is fliegal, and if it is carried on is without the knowledge this office; neither has any application been made neither has any application been made for a permit to dump in the harbor at that point. Under existing circumstances I am hampered by the want but there is one which will be completed in about a month, when the new law under which I hold my office will be strictly enforced, and in the meantime I must cover the ground with such facilities as I have at hand.

CHAIRMAN BRICE'S SON EXPELLED.

Boston, June 20 (Special: Stuart M. Brice, son of the chairman of the Democratic National Committee, has been expelled from Phillips Exeter Acad omy for disorder. He was a fair scholar, an athlete and a general favorite among the students. It was generally believed that his disobedience of school orders would be overlooked; for, although he has been frequently reprimanded, the faculty always beniently with him. His diploma was withheld and he was not permitted to take part in the Class Day exercises, although his name appeared on the programme as class historian. The disappointment is great, both to young Brice and to his family. His mother and sister were on their way to Exeter to attend commencement, when he telegraphed them the news of his expulsion. Of course, the class of '80 are in sympathy with Brice, and, as he was not are in sympansy who firee, and, as he was not allowed to read the class history at the regular exercises, the students afterward met in the lower hall, where he read it, and it was received with great appliance. The class of '80 elected lirice president and voted to hold a reunion in Exeter in the com-mencement week of 1s91.

OFFICERS ELECTED BY MASTER MECHANICS. Niagara Falls, N. Y., June 20 (Special). The closing ession of the Master Mechanics' Association was, for the main part, devoted to discussion of reports of committees. John A. Hill, Editor of "The Locome tive Engineer," New York; J. G. Smith, Doylestown. Penn.; L. R. Pomery, Suburban Rapid Transit Company, New-York, were elected honorary members. The subjects were selected for investigation and dis cussion next year. A committee was appointed to advise the association of the status of the autuomatic car-coupler question. It was made compulsory for members to answer circulars of inquiry addressed to them by the committees. Either Chattanooga, Buffal or Montreal will be chosen as the place of holding the or Montreal will be chosen as the place of holding the next convention. These are the officers elected: President, R. H. Briggs, Memphis, Tenn.; first vice-president, John Mackenzie, Cleveland, Ohio; second vice-president, Albert Griggs, Providence; secretary, August Shelair, New-York; treasurer, O. Stewart, Charlestown, Mass. The secretary's salary was fixed at $1,200.

SUNDAY-SCHOOL WORK AT MALONE. Malone, N. Y., June 20 (Special).—One of the out-comes of the recent Sunday-school Convention at Albany has been the immediate opening of an ag-commencing on Sunday at Malone. Two union mass-meetings were held, which were addressed by the newly elected chairman of the district, Charles Halsey Moore, of Plattsburg, by State Missionary Eddy, and by the local pastors in the evening. The town visi-tation plan was at once inaugurated, and great good seems i kely to grow out of the ingathering of those outside the churches to the Sunday-schools.

THE COST OF SCHOOL SITES.

THE NUMBER WHICH REMAINS TO BE ACTED ON -A REMARKABLE CASE.

commission which has the appraisement of the school site at Washington, Carlisle and Albany sts. is now taking evidence on the value of that site. The building is to replace the present school in Washington-st., that being shut off from the light by the elevated roads, which are both in front of it and in its rear. The site has been estimated at $77,000 by the Board of Education, and it is not thought that the award will exceed $100,000.

The awards as to four of the eighteen sites now before the commission have been approved by the supreme Court, and five sites yet remain to be awarded by the commissions. In addition there are thirteen school sites now before the Board of Education awaiting its action, to be referred to commissions for award. Fifteen more sites have been selected by the ward trustees for new buildings. school trustees said yesterday that, at the rate of cost on the awards already made, the amount would exceed the estimates of the Board by at least $700,-Commissioner F. W. Devoe said that it looked as though it was going to cost $250,000 to secure a site and build a school-house in New-York in the future. The services of the commissioners on the awards already made have cost the city upward of $30,000, of which about $10,000 has been for adver-

Perhaps the most remarkable case among the awards is that relating to the site in Fortyfirst-st., between Seventh and Eighth aves. This is a lot 20 by 100 feet. The trustees of the Twenty second Ward selected it more than a year ago, and it was offered to them for $12,000. Some delay occurred in arranging for the purchase, and by the time the money had been appropriated by the Roard of Education the owner advanced his price $500 This compelled another delay, owing to the forms followed by the Board in its purchases, and while the negotiations were in progress the new statute requiring all sites to be condemned by a commission went into effect and negotiations were dropped The site went to a commission for appraisal and the committee placed the value at $13,500. The award has been made by the commission and it is $27,000 At the Corporation Counsel's office it is said that this is a remarkable increase. A protest has been entered against it and the officials will make another investigation of the claims. The expenses of the commission will reach about $3,000, making the total cost of the site to the city $30,000, when it could have been purchased a little more than a year ago for $12,500. There is no record, the commissioners say, of the low figures having been placed by the owners on their property, but the Board of Education in dealing with private owners was surely able to secure a written contract. The lot is one of several and the present owner, a woman, purchased it from the owner who offered it originally to the Board of Education. In the testimony before the commission she produced a check for $20,000, which she awore was the sum paid for the lot. It was an old piece which she claimed spolled the shape of her property, and it was on this testimony that the award was placed at $27,000.

A LETTER FROM SENATOR CHANDLER.

REPUTING THE STORIES TOLD BY SOME EXAS-PERATED OPPONENTS.

Concord, N. H., June 20 (Special). - Senator Chandler publishes over his signature an open letter to the Republicans of New-Hampshire relative, to the charges made against him at the recent caucus at which was nominated. He refterates his denial of an alliance with Frank Jones, the Democratic the charge of attempts to corrupt members to vote He adds: " Mr. Sulloway during his characteristic speech also saw fit to refer to the affair be tween Senator Blackburn and myself which happened in the room of the Committee on Indian Traders of the United States Senate on the 224 of February last. So long as misrepresentations concerning this affair only served as material for assaults upon me by Democratic newspapers I have not cared to them, but since they have been reproduced in the Republican legislative caucus which has nominated me for senator, I take occasion to dispose of them. The Republicans present have never given to the press any statement of what actually took place. The whole affair occupied hardly more than a dinute. I remained scated in my chair. I expected o personal violence and was subjected to none and to no appreciable indignity save threatening words and I do not think that I was in the slightest degree excited, disturbed, or apprehensive. All accounts which represent Mr. Blackburn as pulling my car or dragging me from my chair, or handing me protection of the committee, or as in any way deprecatng Mr. Blackburn's wrath, are untrue. The ebullition was more indicrous than dangerous. Of course I understand very well that some Democrats wish to intimidate me and failing in that to degrade me. To do this it will be necessary for them to adopt some more effective plan than that developed in the comnittee room on the 22d of February or the next day and thereafter in the Democratic newspapers, which gave fictitious accounts of what had taken place."

LE CARON EXPELLED FROM THE G. A. R. Chicago, June 20 (Special).-Le Caron, the British military spy, was to night tried by his comrades in Winfield Hancock Post. No. 560, G. A. R., and sum marily dismissed from the order. The charges against him were that he was unworthy of being a comrade of the other members, and the trial was brought about by his testimony given in the Parnell case. Added to this is a story of peculiar interest as to his identi fication by the members of the Post, and which points to the fact that Le Caron not only spent his time in America in acting as a spy against the Irish revolutionists, but also joined the United States Army and the G. A. R. for the purpose of giving in formation to the British Government, An investigation of Le Caron's papers, on which he got into the post was made. It was found that he was a private in the 16th Pennsylvania Infantry during the war, and rose to the rank of lieutenant in a colored infantry regiment. His history in Braidwood, Ill., where he kept a drug-store, was looked It was found that he simply acted as a spy on the actions of the miners in that section, who were members of the I. R. B.

LABORERS ON STRIKE AT JOHNSTOWN.

Johnstown, Penn., June 20.-The first clear day here since the awful calamity found work among the ruins practically suspended by a strike. The quiet, subdued feeling which has prevailed since the flood is giving way to one of unrest, discord and danger. As yet there has been no open outbreak, but repeated breaches of the peace occurred during the day, and to-night a free fight occurred, in which Joseph Trunzer, of Lawrendeville, was assaulted and probably fatally hurt by Tom Cofflers, of Philadelphia. All the idle men who can get intoxicated are drinking, and to-night the imilitia rested nervously upon their arms. It was announced to night that the strike which began this morning had been declared off, and that a thousand or more men had been paid and discharged, but the discharged men refused to abandon the place. and the authorities announced that all idlers must leave early in the morning or the militis will be called upon to drive them away. New men are coming in on every train, and all the contractors have agreed in the future to furnish their men with more act before retired. and better rations.

A LETTER FROM EXCOMMISSIONER OBERLY, Washington, June 20 (Special).-Ex-Indian Commisstoner Oberly to-night made public a letter addressed by him on June 10 to Herbert Welsh, of Philadelphia, secretary of the Indian Rights Association. It says in part :

Before leaving the service I wish to tender you my thanks for the interest you have taken in my retention in office, not so much because the effort was made in my lehalf as because it was a movement undertaken in the interest of the Indians and for the promotion of their welfare, to which you have devoted untiting and efficient labor. I appreciate also the efforts of those of different affiliations from myself who Joined with you in this movement for my retention, and it was because of such interest and endeavors that I did not resign my office when the new Administration came into power.

However, under existing conditions, the Indian Bureau is part of the political machinery for which the Administration must have at the head of the bureau
a man of its own politics.

WAS HIS EXPUISION UNJUST?

J. H. Hollander declares that the action of the Government of Guatemala in excluding him fro that country was a gross injustice. He says that he has applied to the State Department at Washington to procure redress, and that his case is under consideration He says that he is an American citizen a was publishing a newspaper in Guatemala, under the authority of that Government; that he sent a state. ment to the State Department at Washington as to the conduct of the American Minister in Guate. male at that time, having verified his statement before an American Consul there, and that he made no publication of his charges in any other way. A prosecution was then begun against Mr. Hollander in the Guatemala courts. He was arrested and taken, as he says, without trial or any oppor-tunity to settle up his business or communicate with his family, forcibly put on board a steamer and expelled from the country. Mr. Hollander questions the right of the Guatemala Government to take an action on his communication to his own Government, and the right of the Guatemala consul in this city to publish the decree in the case.

A HOLE IN AN EXCURSION BARGE.

Council No. 1, Benevolent Ord r of Veteran Firemen, and just started on its first annual excursion to Bay Cliff Park, Staten Island, yesterday morning, on the steamer Pomons, Captain Bartow, with the excursion barge W. H. Vander bilt in tow, when an accident occurred which came new ending the day's programme. The boats were leaving the dock at One-hundred-and-twenty-fifth-at, when the wind blew the barge and steamer broadside on against the rocks on Ward's I-land. A six-foot hole was stove in the Vanderbilt's side amid-hips, and her main hatchway was orn up by the pressing of her bottom timbe

The passengers were hurriedly and safely gotten of and put aboard the Pomona, without excitement or confusion. The Starin Company, to which both boats be longed, met the Pomons at the Market-th dock with the barge Sumact, to which the passengers were again transferred, and all went rejoicing on their trip to Bay

FINED FOR ACCEPTING VOTES OF IDIOTS. Indianapolis, Ind., June 20.—Hiram W. Miller, ex-Treasurer of Marion County, and Smith Williams, superintendent of the County Poor Asylum, who were indicted for voting idiotic and insane inmates of the County Asylum at the last election, pleaded guilty before Judge Woods to-day. Miller, who, as election inspector in the precinct, disregarded challenges in receiving the votes of the unfortunates, was fined

$250; and Williams, who, the preliminary hearing showed, conspired with Miller to vote the paupers, was fined $50. The result of the prosecution is regarded as important, in that it will stop the voting of idiotic and insane inmates of county asylums throughidiotic and insane inmates of county asylums throughout the State, a practice that has become common during recent years. PERRY'S THERATS AGAINST JUSTICE FIELD. San Francisco, June 20 (Special).—The arrival of Justice Field, of the Supreme Court, this morning has revived recollections of ex-Judge Ferry's threats against Field after the scene in the court-room here t summer in the Sharon case, and Ferry's sentence to Alameda County Jail, with his wife, Sarah Althea Ferry is a reckless and disappointed man, but his best friends do not think that he will do so foolish an act as to assault Field. His old fighting spirit is broken. About two months ago a druggist in Fresno knocked him down, because Ferry called him a Har, and the man who was once the terror of San Francisco
